Give to the winds thy fears,
Through waves and clouds and storms
Still hea - vy is thy heart?
What though Thou rul - est not;
Let us in life, in death,
Leave to God's sov - ereign sway

Hope and be un - dis - mayed. God hears thy sighs and counts thy tears, God gent - ly clears the way. Wait pa - tient - ly; so shall this night Still sinks thy spi - rit down? Cast off the world, let fear de - part Yet heaven, and earth, and hell Pro - claim, God sit - teth on the throne, thy stead - fast truth de - clare, and pub - lish with our lat - est breath to choose and to com - mand; so shalt thou, won - dering, own that way,

God shall lift up thy head.
soon end in joy - ous day.
Bid ev - ery care be - gone.
And rul - eth all things well.
thy love and guard - ian care.
how wise, how strong this hand.
